

INNOVATION MARKETPLACE

Day 1 and Day 2, 1700, as well as during breaks

This booth/display area features exhibits highlighting project innovations, including unique approaches and outputs, with emphasis on how these innovations might be replicated. All breaks between sessions and the first two evenings will be held in the exhibit area to promote exploration, informal discussion and networking opportunities related to these innovations.

To encourage lively demonstrations, several prizes will be awarded. Winners will be determined by both participant- and GEF IW Task Force-judged awards. Please visit the Conference website for exhibitor instructions and information on the GEF IW project website competition and a 'WOW' win-a-laptop award.

How can I participate in the Innovation Marketplace?

The GEF Secretariat expects all IW projects to develop exhibits that display their innovative approaches, accomplishments and core strengths. Partners participating in the conference are also encouraged to exhibit in the Innovation Marketplace. Project representatives are asked to take turns hosting their Innovation Marketplace exhibits on Day 1 and Day 2 evenings, to ensure that someone is at each booth to explain and that all participants have a chance to view and make their choice for the peer –judged award.
